

BOHLKE

JOMEN "SAM" BLACK
GENERAL MANAGER
DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS
PILOT

Our General Manager, Sam Black, is qualified to fly our Gulfstream G100, Citation II and Beechcraft King Air 200. He is a CFI, CFII, MEI and Glider Instructor. Sam is also an accomplished aerobatic pilot and instructor – flying over 700 hours in tail-wheels like the dynamic, Mudry Cap10.

Originally from Fort Worth Texas, he attended Louisiana Tech University, graduating Magna Cum Laude with a B.S. in Professional Aviation and a minor in Business Management. After college, Sam served as a faculty member at the 'Daniel Webster College' in Nashua, New Hampshire. He enjoyed two years of teaching, before moving on to work for 'Cape Air', flying scheduled air charter.

Working at Cape Air gave Sam the opportunity to move to the Caribbean, ultimately coming to work for Bohlke International Airways. Sam takes great pride in ensuring exceptional customer service and satisfaction, whilst maintaining a positive and rewarding work environment for all Bohlke employees. With over eighteen years of flying experience, having logged over 8000 hours of flying, Captain Black will bring you to your destination safely, whilst always delivering the highest level of service.

Sam was recently appointed the position of Director of Operations and is working to maintain and grow our flight operations, safety and training of pilots and ground support staff – continuing our company status as the leading provider of safe and reliable air charters in the Caribbean and beyond.
